Instant History

Today it's normal to see replays when watching sports, but when instant replay debuted Dec. 7, 1963, some fans did a double take. CBS decided to try out the new technology during its live TV broadcast of the annual Army-Navy football game and aired one replay, a touchdown by Army at the end of the game. The announcer told viewers what they were seeing was not live, but people called the network to ask if the team had scored again. Within a few years, instant replay became a key feature of televised sports.

A Forest of Fossils

Every year, more than 600,000 visitors arrive at the southern portion of Arizona's Painted Desert to see one of nature's most awe-inspiring features: petrified wood. Established on Dec. 9, 1962, the Petrified Forest National Park is home to giant fossilized logs that shimmer with rainbow-hued quartz. Along with the 200 million-year-old wood, the park has yielded fossil evidence of numerous dinosaur and plant species.

Double Up on Gift Cards

December is a great time to take advantage of gift card promotions. For example, a restaurant might offer a free $10 gift card with the purchase of a $50 gift card. With retailers, the offer could be a free gift card with a product purchase.

We've Got Mail

It is estimated that about 1.3 billion holiday cards are sent each year in the U.S.
